REVIEW

A stainless steel fermented and aged white, with a small addition of Semillon, the 2024 Sauvignon Blanc is crisp, clean, and medium-bodied, with impressive focus and enduring freshness. The acidity is well-integrated and helps boost the notes of melon, passionfruit, and lime. The finish is zippy and refreshing. Drink now.

Andis has a great hospitality space in the heart of Amador County and takes a lighter approach to its wines. Estate winemaker Mark Fowler works with Napa Valley-based winemakers Maayan Koschitzky and Philippe Melka to manage both the estate and source grapes from the wider area.
